4. Let you know about other products and services we offer which may be of interest to you.
5. Gather anonymous statistical data.
6. We will hold your personal information securely and use it only in compliance with this privacy policy and applicable current data protection laws.

We may transfer your personal information outside the European Economic Area where this is necessary in order for us to provide the services requested by you and you consent to us doing so. If you do not want us to use your personal information please let us know in writing. If you decide to do so, we may not be able to continue to provide information, services and/or products requested by you and we will have no liability to you in respect of the same.

We may disclose your information to the following parties:

1. The Financial Conduct Authority FCA and other regulatory and government bodies;
2. Other companies within our group;
3. Service providers and professional advisers who provide us with services;
4. Any other third parties where this is necessary in order to provide the products or services requested by you;
5. Any other party authorized by you;
6. Any authority we are required to disclose information to by law.

Unless required to do so by law, we will not otherwise share, sell or distribute any of the personal information you provide to us without your consent. We will not disclose personal information to a third party for their marketing purposes.

When you visit this website we may issue a "cookie" to your computer. This is a small program that allows us to identify your computer. Information collected in this way is used to monitor website use and may be used to personalize the content of the site for you. The cookie alone contains no information which can identify you personally. You are able to set up your computer to refuse to accept cookies.
